How the tag representation changes the emergence measurement